Soviet Warns West Not to Attack East

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev warned today that any attempt by the Western Allies to shoot their way to West Berlin would mean war with the Soviet Union.

"No encroachments against East German territory, in the center of which Berlin is situated, can be tolerated—either by land, water or air," Khrushchev declared in a speech at Tula, an industrial center 120 miles south of Moscow.

"But to everybody it is evident that if they begin to shoot, this will mean the beginning of war," the Soviet premier declared.

The speech, given Tuesday, was made public today by the Soviet news agency Tass.

The Western powers have proposed a Big Four foreign minister parley on Germany this spring but have not said what action they would take if the Soviets carry out their threat to give East Germany control of Allied supply routes to their West Berlin garrisons.

There have been reports armed convoys or an airlift have been proposed to defy the East Germans, who already control civilian traffic to and from Berlin. The Western allies contend control of their military traffic is a Soviet occupation responsibility which the Soviets cannot transfer to the East German Communists without approval of the other three occupation powers. The Allies refuse to deal with the East German regime, which they do not recognize as a legitimate government.

Khrushchev indicated the Soviet Union would bulwark transfer of its occupation powers to the East German government by signing a World War II peace treaty with the Communist German regime.

The Soviet bloc he said, is prepared to sign a peace treaty with both West and East Germany—"or with one of them." If the Soviet Union signs such a treaty with East Germany, he continued, that nation "will acquire all the rights and obligations of a sovereign state."

"Any violation of East German sovereignty will be resolutely refused, irrespective of whether this violation will be on water, on land or in the air," Khrushchev warned.

Khrushchev hailed as "worthy of attention" a call by Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) for direct unity talks between the East and West German governments and for a central European zone free of nuclear weapons.

Mansfield told the Senate last week that West Germany should abandon its opposition to dealing directly with the East Germans on the unity issue.

Local Delegations At Two Meetings

Two Salem delegations are attending two state meetings today. One group is attending Gov. DiSalle's industrial and economic development conference in Columbus. The meeting, under the direction of John W. Bush, director of commerce, is being held in the Youth Center at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Attending from Salem are Glenn T. Harding, Howard Firestone, Raymond Lowry, Delmer Smith, and Walter Noll, all members of the newly formed Salem Industrial Development Corporation.

A meeting in New Philadelphia with John W. Hagan, new engineer of Division 11 of the State Highway Department, is being attended by 12 members of the Mayor's Highway Committee and four persons from Leetonia.

DiSalle Eyes New Taxes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio is near the bottom of the barrel for highway construction funds. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle reports it will be necessary to find new money to keep the building program rolling.

So what's it going to cost the average motor vehicle owner if Ohio continues to build roads at the present rate?

About another $30 a year. Ohio contracted for about 370 million dollars' worth of roads last year. If the program is cut back to 300 millions this year, advances to 350 millions next year and jumps to 400 millions in each of the two following years, DiSalle estimates, it will require an extra 120 millions a year in new or increased taxes.

Since Ohio has about four million registered vehicles, each vehicle's share of the new tax burden would be about $30.

Why the need for construction money?

Only 58 Remain Of the 500-million-dollar highway bond issue voted in 1953, only 58 million dollars remain. And, beginning this year, the state buckles down in earnest to the task of paying off the bond issue at about 45 millions a year for the next 13 years.

Where might the money come from to keep highway construction rolling?

Passage Virtually Certain for Fair Employment Measure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Democratic-dominated Ohio Senate will vote late today on a bill to prohibit discrimination in employment because of race, creed or national origin.

It will be the first time fair employment practices (FEP) legislation ever has reached the floor of the Senate. Passage is virtually certain.

The House, meanwhile, is expected to give resounding approval to a proposed general increase in the fees charged those individuals who use the services of county offices. The county fee bill, designed to give county governments a financial boost, is similar to the measure vetoed two years ago by former Gov. C. William O'Neill.

Pay Boost Hopes Dashed by Council

Finance Head Declares City Hasn't Funds

No Action Taken On Petition Signed By Police, Firemen

A report by Finance Committee Chairman Fred Koenreich at Council's meeting Tuesday night dashed hopes of police and firemen for an imminent wage increase.

A delegation of police and firemen attending the meeting silently left the chambers after Mr. Koenreich declared the city doesn't have the money to grant the departments the 15 per cent boost requested in a petition presented at Council's last regular meeting.

Signed By Police, Firemen

The petition had been signed by all 28 members of the two departments, and endorsed by Mayor Harold D. Smith, Safety Director Joseph Fester, Fire Chief Clarence W. Wright and Police Chief Martin Lutsch.

No further action was taken by Council on the petition following the finance committee chairman's report. However, Council President Curtis Vaughan called for a committee-of-the-whole meeting next Tuesday to discuss the city's financial problems.

And Mr. Koenreich announced that City Auditor Helen Coyne and Treasurer James Criswell will meet with County Auditor I. J. Vondran at Lisbon in the near future to probe the possibility of obtaining additional funds from the county.

"Cannot Even Consider"

Mr. Koenreich told Council last night that his committee "cannot even consider" recommending the wage increase.

Reviewing the city's fiscal condition, he said the balance in the general fund as of Feb. 9 was $17,261 with which to meet a payroll of $21,000 at the end of this month.

Although the street service department has made some progress in reducing its debts, only $3,678 remains in the street fund, and the bi-monthly payroll will eat up $3,484 of that, he said.

Mr. Koenreich tempered his report with the statement that the city's financial outlook should brighten somewhat upon receipt of general fund moneys outstanding for street work and other municipal projects.

Only One Method Open

Mr. Koenreich stated the only possible way the city could purchase a proposed grader for the street department would be to sell bonds within the 10-mill limit.

Quakers Head For Tournament Battles

The Salem Senior High School basketball team ended its regular season with a 78-45 win over Girard Tuesday night in the local gym, giving the Quakers a season record of 17 and one.

Saturday night at 6:30 the Quakers face Newton Falls in the first tournament game at Youngstown. Tickets were placed on sale today at Fisher's News and Heddlestone's. The story of last night's game will be found on the sports page.

THIS IS IT — Technicians are shown lowering the lid on the "weather eye" satellite at the Army's Signal Research and Development Laboratory at Fort Monmouth. Yesterday a Vanguard rocket soared aloft from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and boosted the 21½ pound sphere into orbit. The delicate instruments housed in the shiny "weather eye" satellite are designed to report from outer space on the world's weather.

U.S. Satellite May Forecast Weather

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's newest earth satellite streaked through space today, flashing back hourly data that may open a new era in man's ability to forecast the weather.

Jubilant scientists at National Aeronautics and Space Administration headquarters reported that weather monitoring equipment aboard the 20 inch satellite was "working perfectly."

"We haven't found a single fault yet," a NASA spokesman said.

Among other things, the basketball-size globe is designed to spot and report cloud conditions in an experiment designed eventually to help forecasters predict storms.

However, NASA officials reiterated that it probably will be two weeks before electrical signals transmitted from this satellite can be processed and findings reported.

Report Findings

By that time radio batteries which report findings of the satellite's weather eyes, a pair of photoelectric cells, are expected to have gone dead.

But the satellite itself, a 21½ pound sphere launched Tuesday from Cape Canaveral, Fla., may continue to orbit through space for at least a decade, possibly for centuries. Not until the effects of atmospheric drag can be observed and calculated will a more definite life span be known.

Triggered by radio signals from ground stations, the satellite's tiny radio transmitter flashes back weather data approximately once each hour.

A NASA spokesman said the device is triggered "at least twice every orbit." Latest calculations indicated the satellite, dubbed Vanguard II, makes a complete orbit of the earth every 125.9 minutes.

Although Vanguard II marks

County Medical Units Hear Guest Speaker

Dr. Frederick Zuspan, assistant professor at Western Reserve University, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, discussed recent advances in the practice of office gynecology when he spoke at a dinner meeting of the Columbiana County Medical Society and Auxiliary Tuesday night at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon.

In his talk to the 65 persons attending, he also recounted the use of hypnosis in selected cases. Dr. John Fraser, East Liverpool surgeon, received the society's endorsement for counselor of the sixth district Ohio Medical Society, which includes Warren, Trumbull, Stark, Mahoning, Columbiana and Summit counties.

The county welfare program was discussed and the society approved the proposed formation of a Northern Columbiana county chapter of the American Red Cross.

Congress Eyes New Labor Bill

Taft-Hartley Change Proposed by GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration will insist on Taft-Hartley law changes as part of any legislation to curb labor abuses, Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) said today.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said President Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell are backing solidly an effort to get Congress to act on a single-package measure based on the President's 20-point program.

"If the Labor Committee doesn't report out a bill including all of the President's proposals, we will offer them as amendments when the Senate takes up the measure," Dirksen said.

Dirksen described as impractical Mitchell's announced willingness to go along with Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) on a two-bill approach, with union-management curbs considered in one

Jukebox Czar Summoned by Investigators

WASHINGTON (AP) — A man described as one of New York's major jukebox distributors was summoned today to tell Senate investigators whether a New York money lending firm has been making high interest loans to underworld figures.

Robert F. Kennedy Senate Labor-Management Committee counsel, said the man reputedly heads a firm set up to make loans to coin machine operators for the purchase of new equipment.

Kennedy said the committee wants to know who got loans, and what was done with the money. Kennedy said he has evidence showing that borrowers included "some of the leading figures in the narcotics and gambling racket."

Today's testimony marks a switch from hearings which ended Tuesday with a charge by Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) that Teamsters Union leaders have been used as "a badge of extortion" in jukebox-coin machine rackets.

McClellan spoke after a parade of witnesses invoked the Fifth Amendment when asked whether they were involved in a plot to place jukebox and most vending and pinball machines in the New York area under monopoly control of a combine of gangsters and corrupt union officials.

Posters of Nepal's nine political parties and hundreds of independent candidates dotted walls and fences.

It is a slow motion election with only 18 of the 109 House of Representatives seats at stake the first day. Eight more will be voted on Feb. 22, and 16 additional voting days are due before the House is completed April 2. Half the members of an upper house will be chosen by the House of Representatives and half by King Mahendra.

The West, the Communists and neutral India are watching the elections closely, concerned over the possibility of any policy changes in the buffer state. A half dozen Red correspondents representing major East European newspapers and news agencies are on hand. Also present is a 10-man economic delegation from Moscow, which arrived Feb. 2 with a strategic offer of aid but which apparently got a snub for its pains.

Many observers believed the Soviets hoped to assist Communist candidates by announcing the loan in advance of the election. But the delegation was left cooling its heels while the government concentrated on election plans.

Nepal's Communists, with 70 candidates in the field, predict they would win the biggest bloc of seats. Many observers felt confident they would place no more than 10.

County Agriculturist Speaks to Rotarians

Edgar P. Watkins, director of marketing information for the Mahoning County Agriculture Extension Service, explained the operation of the farm extension work when he was guest speaker at the Rotary Club meeting Tuesday noon in the Memorial Building.

On the subject of food, he said it was unlikely that there ever would be a famine because the agriculture productivity rate was rising faster than the nation's population.

E. U. Whitacre introduced the speaker.

Execution Scheduled For Ashtabula Slayer

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Arthur Lee Cole, 47, Ashtabula, is scheduled to die in the electric chair at the Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus May 25 for the shotgun slaying of Patrolman Eino Tiivola. The execution date was set Tuesday by the Seventh District Court of Appeals, which upheld Cole's first degree murder conviction. Tiivola was slain while investigating a domestic complaint at Cole's home.

CLEARING WRECKAGE
LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Railroad crews today were clearing the wreckage caused by the derailment of 17 cars of a New York Central Railroad freight at Amherst Tuesday. DARK IS LIGHT ENOUGH—Man is catching up with the cat. A mechanical eye has been developed, a low-light-level television camera tube that can "see" in near total darkness. Louise Estes demonstrates the new tube, developed by General Electric in Schenectady, N.Y., above. She appears on monitors in both pictures, one taken in normal light, left, the other in darkness. The tube is far more sensitive than the human eye, or even the human eye aided by night binoculars. This is a new electronic approach differing from infrared rays. Potential uses are varied. Militarily, it could enable submarines to see much better ahead and below the bow when submerged, or permit trucks and tanks to travel without revealing themselves with headlights. Its use will be confined to closed-circuit television.

Morning Ritual

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—We have a new morning ritual in our home.

The other morning I was in the bathroom and shaving when my young daughter, Tracy Ann, entered carrying Lady Dottie, her cat.

Without saying a word Tracy walked over and flushed the toilet three times, while the cat, held aloft in her arms, watched with an eager intensity.

As they started to march out, I asked: "What's the big idea?" "Nothing, daddy. Lady Dottie just likes to watch waterfalls."

"Well, take her out in the kitchen and turn on the faucet there," I told her crossly.

"I can't."

"Why not?"

"It's not the same thing," said Tracy with that air of exaggerated patience children adopt when explaining something to their ignorant elders. "Lady Dottie doesn't like to watch kitchen waterfalls. She likes bathroom waterfalls."

Now, every morning, whether I'm late to work or not, all operations in my bathroom halt while Lady Dottie watches her quota of three waterfalls. We have another bathroom but for some reason Lady Dottie doesn't like to watch waterfalls in it.

I cite this incident only to show how a cat that comes into a house as a guest stays to become its boss. Four months ago when Lady Dottie arrived as a mewling kitten, I was one of the dog-lovingest, cat-disdaining husbands in America.

Now I find my life is surrounded by four white paws. So are the lives of the rest of our family.

We spend most of our time now pleasing Lady Dottie. Her whims are getting more imperial every day.

I can remember when Lady Dottie was overjoyed to get a can of cat food. Not now. The other night

I arrived home and smelled a turkey roasting in the oven.

"Who's coming to dinner—president Eisenhower?" I asked.

"No," said my wife, Frances.

"I just thought Lady Dottie was getting tired of beef liver. The turkey will make her feel better."

I thought of observing that if I had asked for turkey it would have been granted only as a deathbed request. But I held my peace. A husband who openly admits he is jealous of a cat has already lost his battlefield. This attitude paid off. Lady Dottie let me have a fair share of the turkey.

County Will Try Voting Machines

Columbia County may get voting machines if a tryout of the equipment in Lisbon and East Palestine at the May primaries and the November election proves satisfactory.

County commissioners yesterday gave the go-ahead signal for the election board to make a trial run of the machines on a rental basis by putting them into operation in Lisbon's six precincts and East Palestine's eight polling places.

Commissioner boards previously have declined to spend money for the voting machines because of the large expenditure required. Election board members, on the other hand, have advocated the machines for a number of years.

Many counties in Ohio utilize voting machines because, once the public is familiarized with their operation, the mechanics of voting is speeded. Accuracy in compiling returns is assured. Voting returns are known soon after the polls close and less clerical help is needed.

In adjacent Mahoning County voting machines were discussed for 15 years before commissioners finally agreed to their purchase in 1951. They have been using them to advantage ever since.

Columbia County Election Board members contend that the voting machines would pay for themselves in 10 to 20 years through savings on the cost of precinct supplies and pay for polling place workers.

After machines are tested in May and November, the Election Board ought to produce figures to prove its contention that the purchase would be a wise investment, and considering the greater efficiency of the devices perhaps larger precincts would reduce the number required.

At any rate, if Columbia County is fortunate enough to get voting machines, the modern method will replace the ballot marking system that is a carry-over from the horse-and-buggy era.

Scholastic Achievement

Critics of public school systems couldn't help but notice yesterday's Page One story of Salem High School seniors' high standing in the "top 10" of Columbia County in the state general scholarship test.

Salem Senior High School not only had four students in the first ranking 10 but topped the honorable mention roster with 19 others for a 30 per cent scholastic rating.

This is the second consecutive year that Salem High School seniors have come through with flying colors, academically. A year ago 20 seniors here ranked among the 61 county students in the upper 25 per cent.

Such achievements not only reflect favorably on the individual student's abilities but speaks well for the educational program followed in the Salem public school system.

The people of Salem, through tax proposals, have seen to it that modern schools have been provided. Buildings have been expanded and a new senior high built. But fine buildings alone will not suffice. It's what is taught inside those buildings that counts. A thorough education for everyone; nothing less.

Judging from the results of the state scholarship examinations, this is being done. Congratulations to the students who have done so well!

The Bad News About Sec. Dulles

President Eisenhower's personal reliance on John Foster Dulles for leadership in U.S. Foreign policy is the central fact of the problem raised by the secretary of state's illness.

It is possible the new cancerous condition discovered by the doctors who operated on Secretary Dulles last Friday may yield to radiation therapy. But it is not probable that Mr. Dulles will return to full-time duty.

Whatever the outcome of the treatment he will undergo, it will be uncertain for some time, and the march of international events cannot wait on his hoped-for recovery. Mr. Dulles, himself, will be most positive about that, because no secretary of state before his time ever gave so much time and effort to the responsibilities of the post.

There will need to be, regardless of the President's feeling that Secretary Dulles is irreplaceable a replacement. The replacement will need to be someone who has worked closely enough with Mr. Dulles to know his mind and to have shared widely in the contacts he has made throughout the world.

Mr. Dulles will have the option, under the circumstances, of recommending a replacement. Being a man of unimpeachable principle, he can be expected to do what he thinks would be best in the eventuality of his inability to take up where he left off when he went into the hospital last week. His replacement will be more than a stand-in: he will be the potential secretary of state.

He will be, if Mr. Dulles and Mr. Eisenhower can find him, a man capable of commanding the confidence of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, now headed by Sen. Fulbright of Arkansas, who has been outspokenly critical of Mr. Dulles on many occasions.

When the possibilities are canvassed, one name may be expected to loom larger than the others — Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. Since 1953, Mr. Lodge has worked continuously and conspicuously on the same project that has occupied Secretary of State Dulles — the adjustment of a postwar world to the rise of Russian power and the tactics of Russia's one-party government.

Can Castro Escape Cuba's History?

It has been agreed among the reporters who have been watching Fidel Castro in his role as successful leader of a Cuban revolution that he is intelligent, sincere and utterly devoted to Cuba and the Cuban people.

Observers have noted no sign that he aspires to be a dictator. They are as positive about his good intentions as they are about the way the formerly good intentions of the Batista regime were obliterated by violence, cruelty and corruption.

Castro now comes to the test. Can he escape Cuban history? Can he survive the disorders whose threat to his new government last week forced a sudden decision to put him in line for the presidency?

It can be guessed with near certainty that Batistas are still strong enough to challenge the Castro regime. It can be guessed with complete certainty that they are capable of being as ruthless in attempts to overthrow overthrowing Batista.

Once Over

("Justice Department is probing General Motors"—News item.)

Q. You are charged with being one of the most successful corporations on earth.

A. Is that bad?

Q. Guilty or not guilty of being a bulwark of American economy upon whose success or failure American prosperity greatly depends?

A. I plead yes and no.

Q. How can you plead both ways?

A. After wading through government statements it's easy.

Q. Where were you on the night of Dec. 7, 1941?

A. I was in there taking directions from Uncle Sam in a war for survival.

Q. Do you mean to say automobiles were important to survival?

A. The ones I made had cannon, treads and rockets on 'em.

A. Are you 10 feet tall?

A. I've been to busy to go into height-guessing games, but I'm not in a business specializing in midgets.

Q. Do you deny you are a monopoly?

A. When I read the quarterly production figures of my competitors I find it hard to believe.

Q. Is it true or false that you have your fingers in too many pies?

A. All I know about pies is that no pie maker's job calls for a change of models, fins or fenders. The bakery business seems comparatively soft.

By H. I. Phillips

Q. Don't you think it is bad for General Motors to make so many different autos?

A. In 1958 I had begun to think two types would be one too many.

Q. How are you doing this year?

A. If I get any time away from investigations and a chance to attend to my job, 1959 business could be good. But I'm not optimistic.

GOV. ROCKEFELLER of New York, despite early squawks, may turn out to have improved White House chances by tax proposals, since he presented a real novelty in picture of an American public servant who doesn't turn from a man into a mouse in any issue risking votes. Mayors, town managers, governors and politicians almost everywhere crawl under rug when money problem calls for people to pay the fiddler. Rockefeller's "Let's face facts, votes or no votes" is epoch move. He may yet wind up as "Mr. Hard-facts, the Man Who Wants the Bills Paid."

J. P. MORGAN MERGER with Guarantee Trust is to be voted on soon. Is it possible to get that much dough into one pot? We know one stockholder who says he will object on these grounds: (1) It will disturb the ghost of the first J. P. Morgan; (2) it will give the bank clerks a superiority complex; (3) any merger of the House of Morgan with anybody anywhere must be pure fiction, or an optical illusion.

The Mooring Mast

Some Songs Crude Travesties

By Westbrook Pegler

It is impossible to reconcile the childish pride of this people in that which we call our culture with our indomitable love of a roster of native songs which are such crude travesties on poetry that they are sung most often in booze and never with the faintest appreciation of the naive bathos of their text.

Some of the worst which readily come to mind are "When You Were a Tulip," which for almost half a century has been echoing 'n Pullmans and speakeasies and still comes over the transoms of expensive hotel suites in the after-hours of "conventions." "Nigh t Time Down in Dixie Land" is no worse for the one obvious reason and yet it gets handed down from father to son, along with "Sweet Adeline," "The Old Mill Stream," "On Mobile Bay," and "Moonlight Bay," all hardy affronts to intelligence, and most of the college hymns.

OF THE LATTER, unless I carelessly err, only the Cornell song, "Cayuga's Waters," is original and sweet. The melody of "Fair Harvard" is an unblushing swipe and the bulldog song of Yale is more appropriate to kindergarten on all counts than its self-replenishing corps of account-execs and high-suburban husbands.

The late Billy Phelps, a youth, savant and inveterate bouncer, mulishly insisted in his later years that Yale's "Breck-Ex-Eck-Ex" was not as insipid as "BoolaBoola," but Phelps himself fomented it one autumn afternoon long ago, and that may explain his judgment. A passel of noncombatants were strolling from the football field after watching practice toward Mori's beer den when Phelps set up an exuberant crackle which drew in others and became immortal, as of now, at Yale, with many imitations on other campuses. Young Phelps had caught this from "The Frog Chorus" of Aristophanes, and on this account he and other Yales have never ceased to claim high intellectual quality for a babble as idiotic as "Boom, Get a Rat Trap" and a thousand variations of "Sis-Boom-Ah."

It is possible, of course, but it seems highly unlikely that other peoples this side of barbarism have tolerated anything as humiliating as the lyric of Al Jolson's classical work which penetrated our soul and seared it with the dreadful text of "Yacka Hoola Hick e y Doola." Yet if this immortal horror were put on a record today with perhaps some perversion of the original snarl of notes intended for the nauseating ukelele, it probably would run its course all over again.

"MAMMY," the bedrock of Jolson's imperishable game, is verboten forever on grounds of "racism." That is one way of achieving a desirable end, although it were better for us if we had been able to repudiate it by act of congress on esthetic counts.

I sm dogged about this, but I bothered by a suspicion that "Pagliacci" is not much better and enjoys an advantage only because Enrico Caruso was a foreigner who mixed his own salad, pinched ladies in central park and imparted to this incoherence the mystery of an alien tongue. If the tenor soloist of the glue club of Tuskegee or Princeton were to sing it, he, too, might bring down the house, but more likely a brick at a time.

In sheer, meaningless banality and ignorance, we have produced nothing to exceed the text of "Tipperary" the war-cry of the London munition workers, a song seldom heard in France, however. The Tommies incidentally sang "I want to Go Home" with feeling until it was forbidden by the same sort of general who expunged the clumsy and cynical but deeply poetical "Benny Havens" from the West Point repertoire. This lament was attributed to Edgar Allan Poe in his brief career in the corps, spent mostly in a grog shop just off the limits of "the whole God-Forsaken place."

THE CIVIL WAR and the ouing of '98 produced a number of "campfire" airs, but it is hard to imagine tired soldiers of any period belly-aching "Just before the Battle, Mother."

Of course, "The Gay Cavalier" was not a war song at all but a studio number imputing to a "cal'ry sojer" sentiments which still are appropriate, even to warriors of the permanent staff of the Brooklyn army base, but in terms outlandishly decent.

I have nurtured for more than a quarter century a hope that one day the greatest work of this kind eve done in our language would be recognized by some pretentious intellectual academy. I refer to an obscure classic by Arthur "Bugs" Baer, which he offered as "A love-song to end love songs" under the title, "When I'm With You I'm Lonesome."

New 14th Amendment

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Basic Rights Must Be Established

A new amendment to the federal Constitution is needed not only to clear up the conflicting decisions of the courts interpreting the 14th Amendment on the subject of school integration but to establish firmly the basic rights of organizations of all kinds, including those of a fraternal, religious, educational and business nature.

For today, under the changeful rulings of varying personnel in the Supreme Court of the United States, a group of citizens, for instance, who form a partnership or a corporation cannot be sure of the "equal protection of the laws" of the states.

Under the dissenting opinions handed down repeatedly by a minority of the justices, the 14th Amendment has been held to apply to individuals only and not to groups of individuals.

Likewise, continuance of parochial schools is not fully assured from a legal standpoint. While a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in 1925 held invalid an Oregon law that required the attendance of all children in public schools, this ruling could be wiped out overnight by five justices of the high court on the ground that public psychology is different from what it was when the first ruling was made and that public school education is "inherently" better than private schooling.

PLAINLY, also, the voteless people of the District of Columbia do not enjoy the "equal protection" clause applicable to residents of the 49 states of the Union. Through a curious stretch of power by the Supreme Court in 1954, the school authorities of the City of Washington were ordered to obey the so-called implications of the 14th Amendment, though nothing in the Constitution or in previous rulings had ever defined the constitution that way for the people of a federal territory.

Also, sections 2, 3 and 4 of the 14th Amendment have become obsolete because these referred only to persons once engaged in the war between the states, all of whom now are dead. So these sections can be eliminated.

There are, moreover, serious doubts whether the 14th Amendment was ever legally ratified, due to the coercion of state legislatures by federal troops and by other unconstitutional acts of Congress long after the war was over. All such doubts can be removed by adopting a new amendment reaffirming the essential parts of the old provisions and clarifying them at the same time.

Here is the text of a substitute, offered by this writer as a possible basis for the drafting of a "new 14th Amendment." It contains approximately as many words as the original and reads as follows:

"IN PURSUANCE of the 10th

Amendment, which provides that "the powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people," it is hereby declared that the people of any state may provide in its constitution for a referendum vote, at a special election to be called solely for that purpose, and may by such referendum amend the state constitution to establish within any such state complete and exclusive control by the state over its educational institutions, programs and curricula, including the right to assign pupils too any school supported by public revenues on whatever basis of State Legislature may determine.

"The State Legislatures may by law delegate such exclusive authority in whole or in part to local subdivisions.

"Nothing in the existing provisions of the Constitution shall be held by any court to impair the purpose of this amendment or of the 10th Amendment.

"Congress shall pass no law abridging the rights of the states or denying to any state, or to the people of any federal territory not yet admitted to statehood, the equal protection of the federal laws. Nor shall Congress or the executive, by the provisions of any law governing appropriations, or by any other law or action, deny to any state, or to the people of any federal territory, the right to the exclusive control of its educational institutions, programs and curricula.

"THE STATUTES hitherto enacted by Congress granting to certain states the exclusive control of their educational institutions, programs and curricula, and any such provisions of the state constitutions hitherto approved by Congress upon admission of such states to statehood which provide for the exclusive control of education by the states, are hereby affirmed as of continuing validity.

"Nothing in this amendment shall deny to the citizens of any state or federal territory not admitted to statehood, the right to establish private schools, including religious schools; nor shall any state or federal authority prohibit anyone from attending such a private school by requiring attendance at a public school.

"Subject to the foregoing reservations, Sections 1 and 3 of the 14th Amendment are hereby declared in full force and effect, with Section 1 amended to read as follows:

"All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any person, or corporation, or partnership, or any profit-making or non-profit-making organization, within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

Homework Accomplished

By TRUMAN TWILL

Among the expressions that have come into the language from time to time, to help us understand things more clearly, this one has been especially useful in the last few years:

"He had done his homework."

It is used over and over to describe the special kind of person who takes the time to know what he is talking about.

It is the highest tribute that commentators and observers ever can pay to public figures who back up the performance of their public duty with the performance of their own thoughts before popping private duty to master and muster off.

It refers to the special kind of intelligence always needed but rarely found that shies away from adding needlessly to the half-truths which confuse public issue.

"He has done his homework."

When there are statistics to be gathered and comprehended, he studies them until they are in the right place and used for the right purpose.

If there needs to be consultation of historic precedent, he has studied it and knows how it can be applied properly to the present.

If it is necessary to survey the trial and error of the past to reduce the risk of repeating errors and wasting time on the same trials, he has gone over all the records until they are as familiar as his own life.

Of if it is desirable to make a projection of the present into the future, to understand how a current decision may become a good or a bad precedent for the future, he has thought through the implications.

There has been a deliberate appraisal.

An objective point of view has been taken.

The wisdom of Socrates has been mixed with a spoonful of humanism to test all the tentative conclusions.

All the stones have been turned and all the pitfalls gauged and located.

Practicality and idealism have been applied.

Whenever this is done, the people are the beneficiaries, provided their benefit was the objective.

Those who have the intelligence and the patience to do this are the guarantors of human freedom, which ultimately must come from knowledge and truth.

Recognition of the difference between people who "have done their homework" and those who haven't is one of the encouraging signs of the time.

There is no higher praise that can be given than to say a man has prepared himself for his responsibility.

He is not shooting off his mouth, talking off the top of his head, using words to conceal the absence of thought, or giving vent to personal prejudice.

He is not abusing the trust of his fellowmen, letting his arm be twisted by the bully-boys, or going off half-cocked.

If everybody honestly tried to do his homework, this would immediately become the best of all possible worlds. The truth could make men free.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

It was no sentimental journey which America's angry "young" man, namely Walter Reuther, took to Puerto Rico for labor's mid-winter high command session. Reuther has "The Redhead" been so disturbed, Walter Reuther was eager only to get back and plunge his hard-hit union into militant marches, meetings, demonstrations and regional political drives which will revive the days of the turbulent '30s.

What has agitated Reuther and the rest of the Auto Union's leadership in the past few weeks is the fact that though their giant union sprawls from Baffin Bay, Northwest Territories, Canada, a few miles from the North Pole, to Biscayne Bay, Miami, Fla., it could soon become a second-class power inside labor and politics, too.

THEIR BRAND of militant unionism costs millions of dollars — $15,600,000 annually, in fact. That's what it takes to operate the United Auto Workers in low gear each year. Add to that the cost of strike relief and you get a total of more than 41 million dollars in the past 13 months. The UAW just can't raise that kind of money these days.

To save a million dollars a year, the Auto Union's high board cut 78 men from the national staff. But this leaves some 900 people. More than 600 of them are in the field. The other 30 are clerical and administrative help. There isn't much left to slash and still leave an operating network.

Much of Reuther's trouble is piled up in Michigan. There have been heavy layoffs—and the state can't help much. It is literally on the edge of bankruptcy. Friends at Michigan State University in East Lansing tell me that there is just enough money left in the appropriation to pay instructors and staff up to April.

MICHIGAN has been Reuther's strength. It has been his tradition. It has been for his people the sacred field of battle which rolled them to power. As the state goes, so will the union. These are the terms in which some of Reuther's colleagues have expressed themselves these past few days.

In Washington, to a handful of intimates Reuther spoke in even more drastic terms. The face of his union is changing. It is being "white collared." Not the white collars of the clerical staffs but the white collars of the quasis-technicians, the junior engineers, the dial watchers and the button pushers.

They are replacing the tens of thousands of manual workers whom Reuther and his high command led to power during the early sit-downs. And each white collar is replacing dozens of "overalls."

Reuther and his fellow board members, talking behind closed doors in Detroit the other week, decided the time had come for action. They had already directed the creation of a network of Citizens Councils for political action. Now they drew up a plan for an other network of regional councils across the land.

ON EACH COUNCIL will be the presidents of local unions, spokesmen for the regional unemployed and the representatives of the national offices stationed in the region.

They have been directed to prepare for a pile-driving propaganda campaign — the strategy and signal for which will come with precision when Reuther returns to his "task force" headquarters in Detroit.

In Puerto Rico, Reuther, angered by the time and space that lay between him and his task force, plans to tie the entire labor movement into his new drive.

Drive for what? For a speeded up defense program; for vast new public works; for distribution of the eight billion dollars worth of surplus foods; for heavy expenditures by the government in depressed areas, especially Michigan; for long periods of unemployment insurance; for high relief pay and for congressional laws making the national work week 35 hours instead of 40 — at 40 hours pay.

But whether the rest of labor joins or not, the voice of the troubled Walter Reuther will be heard in our land — and the words will be the words of the '30s.

Term, 'Dental Orphans,' No Longer Sticks

(Third of a Series)

Physically handicapped children have sometimes been called "dental orphans." But now dentists are finding that this need not be true; on many instances, the handicapped can be given every type of treatment given to other youngsters.

Special techniques have been developed to aid the child with cleft palate, the youngster who is mentally retarded, the emotionally disturbed child and others.

While these children compose only a small minority, they do have special dental problems and dentists are giving those problems the special attention they require.

For instance, not so many years ago little or nothing could be done for youngsters born with cleft lips and cleft palates. The dentist is an important member of a health team that now accomplishes dramatic results in treatment of these defects.

Nearly 10,000 babies are born each year with cleft lip and cleft palate; a higher total of children are crippled with this disorder than with polio or cerebral palsy. The team approach in treating these youngsters is spreading with members composed of specialists in various fields, working together.

The modern cleft palate team may include three dental specialists — the pedodontist, prosthodontist and orthodontist — as well as an oral surgeon, plastic surgeon, pediatrician and otolaryngologist, a speech specialist and a psychologist. These specialists, coordinating their efforts, help to assure that the children can develop into healthy, useful, well-adjusted adults.

For handicapped children as a whole, general anesthesia may be desirable, either in a hospital or the dental office. Additionally, recent studies have indicated that certain drugs may be of value in relaxing these youngsters and preventing uncontrolled movements during dental treatment.

The handicapped need their teeth as everyone does, for chewing, for proper speech and for appearance. The same rules apply to the extent that it is possible, to these children as to children not handicapped.

The rules are simple: (1) unless a child has been fortunate enough to live all his life in a town that has fluoridated water, one of the most important preventive measures is fluoride treatments by his dentist; (2) he should eat an adequate diet low in sweets; (3) acquire the habit of brushing his teeth after every meal, and (4) visit his dentist regularly.

Next: Accidental Injuries to Teeth.

In 1856 nearly 2,000 Mormon converts were gathered in Missouri waiting for wagon trains to take them on to Salt Lake City. The wagon trains didn't appear, so they bravely started out across the west, pushing their belongings in handcarts.

measure and controversial changes in the Taft-Hartley Act in another. Could Not Be Reached Mitchell himself could not be reached for comment on Dirksen's statement. A Labor Department spokesman said the department had no comment.

Mitchell issued a statement last week saying he would not oppose the two-package approach provided both halves of it were passed during the session.

Dirksen contended there is no assurance two bills would be passed.

"The only way it could be done would be to have an iron-clad agreement that the second bill would be considered and acted upon," Dirksen said. "That kind of an agreement is difficult to get and I'm afraid we would have trouble lifting a second bill before the Senate."

Eisenhower's program, aimed primarily at safeguarding workers' funds and their rights as union members, is broader in scope than somewhat similar proposals by Kennedy and Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC).

Among other things, Eisenhower asked for revision of the Taft-Hartley Act to bar secondary boycotts and "blackmail picketing" designed to force workers into a union.

Neither of these provisions is included in the Kennedy-Ervin bill, although it would make some Taft-Hartley law changes sought by organized labor. Union leaders say they will not support the measure without these.

Kennedy has said he wants to await a report of a 12-member panel of experts before offering a bill to revise the disputed Taft-Hartley provisions.

Present at Tuesday's meeting were:

McCarthy, R. Max Gard and Walter A. Hunston, county commissioners; County Engineer Charles Snyder; J. J. Vorndran, county auditor; George S. Bloomgren, East Liverpool city engineer; M. P. Burick, Leetonia village clerk; James F. Robinson, federal engineer; and C. S. Campbell of Cuyahoga Falls, representing the State Highway Department.

Highways

Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers to survey possible new tax sources for highway construction. The cabinet-level group came up with a package of six possibilities which, added together, would produce a little more than 100 millions a year.

A 2-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax increase to yield 58½ millions a year.

A 2-cent-a-gallon diesel fuel tax increase to yield about $3,700,000.

Highway Use Tax

A highway use tax on trucks which buy their fuel outside Ohio equal to the diesel fuel tax—estimated to bring in 3 to 4 millions.

An increase from $10 to $15 a year for passenger auto license tags to yield another 17 millions.

A 40 per cent increase in registration fees for trucks not covered by the axle-mile tax, estimated to produce another 15 millions.

An increase from $1 to $5 in the charge for three-year driver licenses to bring in about 14 millions the first year, three millions in each of the next two years and 14 millions the fourth year.

Should Ohio float another bond issue rather than raise taxes?

DiSalle says not, adding: "We can't afford it. Interest on the 1953 bond issue will amount to 11¼ million dollars."

"You can build a lot of highways with 111 million dollars. With federal matching at 90 per cent, it would build a billion dollars' worth of highways."

Ike

Eisenhower and Lopez Mateos, who took office last December. They have arranged talks aboard the Mexican president's yacht Thursday and at Eisenhower's Acapulco hotel, the plush Pierre Marques, Friday.

But administration officials report there are no major United States-Mexican problems to occupy the two chief executives, and that the principal purpose of the visit is to give them a leisurely opportunity to get acquainted.

The President will be accompanied by his youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, a top adviser on Latin American affairs. Others in his party are the President's son, Army Maj. John Eisenhower, a White House aide; Roy R. Rubottom, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs; and Mexico's ambassador to the United States, Antonio Carrillo Flores.

Present plans call for Eisenhower to leave Acapulco by plane Friday night for Augusta, Ga., and a weekend of golf.

Senate

House Conservation Committee for study.

The Senate Committee on State Government recommended passage of a bill to prohibit horse racing on Good Friday.

The House also received a bill carrying out the recommendations of DiSalle that criminal conspiracy be made a felony punishable by a prison term of 5 to 20 years.

The Senate received one bill to prohibit liquor permit holders from serving 3.2 beer and another to ban the sale of 3.2 beer to persons under 21. The House received a bill to put 3.2 beer in the category of intoxicants.

The measure to broaden the state's unemployment benefits policy provides a benefit limit of 60 per cent of a jobless worker's normal pay or 60 per cent of the average weekly pay of all Ohio workers covered by unemployment compensation, whichever is lower. Other major provisions would:

Increase the limit on the $3 weekly allowance for dependents from two to three, including a dependent spouse.

Raise the minimum employer contribution rate and the base salary on which contributions must be made.

School

1,000-pupil school was the first of nine in Virginia shut down in September to prevent integration. It is the last of the nine to reopen.

Warren County joins Norfolk, Arlington and Alexandria among localities which have integrated public schools.

School officials predicted Negro students, admitted here under federal court order, would outnumber white students when the day's registration is completed about 11 a.m. Classes begin Thursday.

"I doubt that more than five or 10 or 12 white children will show up and even that might be an exaggeration — it's only a guess. There might not be a single one," said School Supt. Q. D. Gasque.

Nearly 800 of the white pupils who expected to enroll at Warren County High last fall now are enrolled in private educational facilities here and will stay in these classes until the school year is over. More than 100 others, by Gasque's estimate, are attending schools outside the county.

Household Hints

No need to have a special French gadget to cut melon or avocado balls. Use the ¼ teaspoon from your set of measuring spoons. The melon balls are attractive in a fruit cup for dessert; the avocado balls are delectable when drenched with French dressing to which chili sauce or cat-chup has been added and served as a first course on shredded lettuce.

Distribution Hikes Food Costs, Rotarians Hear

Edgar P. Watkins of Canfield, who is associated with the Ohio Extension service in Mahoning county in the department of market information, was guest speaker at Tuesday's Rotary Club luncheon meeting in the Memorial Building.

Mr. Watkins said that food costs have stayed high not because the farmer is receiving more for his products, but because the cost of distribution is steadily rising. He also said there is no need to worry about having enough food for the coming generations because productivity in farming is increasing more rapidly than the population.

Tom Mercer will be the program chairman for next Tuesday's meeting. He will present the Rev. Laten Carter, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, who will talk in the interest of international service.

Deitch's 25 Sparks Quakers Over Girard 78-45

Scores 16 In Third Period; Hunter Rims 20, Lehwald 12 As Locals Pad Mark To 17-1

By GORDON ARNDT

Woody Deitch proved to be the big noise in Salem's scoring march last night on the home floor against Girard as he tossed in 16 points in the third quarter alone to help break open a somewhat close game and lead the Quakers to an overwhelming 78-45 win over the Indians in the regular season finale for both clubs.

He wound up the night with 25 to lead all point makers. Dave Hunter had 20 for the winners while Jim Lehwald rimmed 12.

The locals led 33-20 at the half but after Deitch got through with his scoring bombardment and all-around ball-hawking the Salemites were in front 60-30 going into the final frame.

He scored Salem's final four buckets in the third frame on two steals for layups, a push shot and a right hand layup.

With Deitch, along with assistance from Hunter and Dan Krichbaum on defense, the Quakers outlasted the outmanned Indians here to eliminate any upset hopes by Girard and to propel the locals to their 14th consecutive win of the season and their 17th in 18 starts. The losers are 7-11.

These three men with Lehwald made things rough for Girard all night long. Their checked full court and stole the ball repeatedly while at the same time being the big factors in Salem's vaunted fast breaking offense.

With Lou Slaby and Clyde Marks rebounding, especially Slaby, the Girard club slowly wilted under the onslaught of the Quakers in the third quarter to drop completely out of contention. Salem outscored Girard 27-10 in the third quarter.

ELEVEN MEN saw action for Salem. Rick Theiss did not see any combat because he was hampered with a bad ankle. He did not play in the reserve game either in which Salem won 49-48.

Ed Smerek had 14 points for the losers while Dick Ambrose had eight. Ambrose had entered the game with a 13.0 average but that was before he had to contend with the defensive play of Hunter.

The game started slow and the Quakers missed their first five or six shots. Their first goal came at the 3:44 mark on a steal by Deitch.

With 2:13 left in the opening canto to Salem led 7-6. Behind Deitch and Krichbaum via the fast break the Quakers then spurred to a 15-7 lead after the first eight minutes.

Girard attempted to fast break in the opening quarter but it didn't pan out. They would then resolve to a slow and deliberate offensive in front of Salem's basket.

Salem started in a man to man defense but switched to a zone near the end of the frame. This coupled with the fast break began to grind up the Indians and start the Quakers on their way to their 10th straight win at home.

Salem mentor John Cabas substituted freely among six men in the second frame amid the fast action. Hunter, just 5-10, proved a vital rebounder in Salem's defensive picture in the second stanza.

Salem outpointed their foe 18-13 in the second frame to take a 33-20 intermission lead.

The Quakers were somewhat not their regular selves in the first half. It was their first game in a week having not played since last Tuesday's 78-61 win over Akron East.

They missed out on easy shots and were occasionally guilty of faulty passing.

All this went down the drain however in the third quarter once a Woodrow Deitch went into high gear.

AFTER FIVE minutes had elapsed in the second half the Quakers were way ahead 49-22 having outpointed Girard 16-2 in this span. Deitch had eight of these 16 and combined with his four goals at the end of the stanza finished the canto with 16 of his own besides propelling the eighth-ranked Quakers to a 60-30 margin with eight minutes remaining. Another feature of Salem's third frame was the rebounding of Lehwald.

Throughout the game the defensive work of Deitch and Hunter was outstanding as was the all-around floor game of Krichbaum. This plus rebounding by Slaby and Marks was the big difference.

Cabas began subbing at the start of the final quarter sending in Lehwald and Solmen for Deitch and Slaby. Ed Yates came in for Marks with seven minutes to go.

With 4:17 left, Deitch, Slaby and Marks, all seniors, re-entered the contest. Just 22 seconds later Tim Burchfield replaced Slaby who left the game amid a round of applause from the standing crowd. Within 12 more seconds Fred Harshman replaced Marks and Carl Dunn came in for Deitch. Both of these seniors left the scene amidst the traditional hand-clapping for their final regular season performance of their careers.

In the last two minutes of the game Girard outpointed Salem 6-0 to make the game the final it was at 78-45.

The Quakers hit on 29 of 72 shots for 40.3 per cent while making 20 of 30 fouls. Girard hit 15 of 49 shots for 30.6 per cent while canning 15 of 27 charity tosses.

The Salemites' next game will be Saturday at 6:30 p.m. against Newton Falls in the first tourney game at Youngstown's South High field house. Newton Falls is 13-5.

Sebring Loses To Columbiana

Don Davidson Paces Clippers With 19

Freezing tactics by Sebring failed to avert a loss as the Trojans were defeated 48-34 by Columbiana in a cage contest Tuesday night on the Clippers' floor.

Only 10 points were scored in the first quarter by both teams, six by the Clippers and four by Sebring.

The count at the halfway mark was 20-12 in favor of the eventual winners and at the three-quarter point, 28-25.

Don Davidson was high for the Clippers with 19 points. He was followed by Ray Baltz who netted 12.

Tom Baxter paced the Trojans' efforts with 11. Next highest scorer for Sebring was Joe Schwartzhoff with eight.

The victory gives Columbiana a 9-8 record for the season. Sebring has lost 14 games while winning three.

The Columbiana Jayvees eked out a win over their Sebring counterparts 45-43 in the preliminary contest.

Columbiana will end its season Friday when it invades Minerva. Sebring's next contest will be at home Friday against East Palestine.

Lisbon Defeats E. Palestine 64-57 In Overtime Contest

Lisbon had to fight hard all the way but finally overcame the mighty East Palestine Bulldogs 64-57 in an overtime cage contest on the Blue Devils' floor Tuesday night.

Bob Pike had his best night for the Lisbon cagers as he tallied 11 field goals and nine free throws for 31 points. Six of Pike's free throws came in the overtime period.

Pike would have netted an additional point if there had not been six men on the floor when he took one of his free throw shots. The basket was good but the officials nullified it.

No more than four points separated the two teams at any point during the regulation contest. Lisbon posted a 16-18 first quarter lead and held a 32-30 advantage at intermission.

East Palestine bounced back to lead 43-39 at the end of the third period. The Bulldogs were in front 55-53 with 40 seconds remaining in the fracas when Bob Pike sank a field goal to knot the score at 55 all.

Lisbon held the Bulldogs to just two points in the overtime while the Blue Devils sank seven free throws and one field goal.

Jim Knight was high scorer for East Palestine with 23 tallies.

The Blue Devils, now sporting a 6-10 record for the season, end their campaign against the Leetonia Bears at Leetonia Friday night.

East Palestine takes to the hardwood against the Sebring Trojans at Sebring Friday to end their season.

In the preliminary contest, the East Palestine Reserves downed Lisbon's Reserves 56-41. Bush was high for the winners with 18 tallies and McLaughlin paced the Blue Devil yearlings with 17.

EASY TRIP—Marcel Pronovost of the Detroit Red Wings didn't like the idea of the Rangers' Jim Bartlett getting ahead of him in chase for a loose puck. So a flick of Marcel's stick and Bartlett went sent iceward.

Sports Sketches

By GORDON ARNDT

The championship of the section half in the Wednesday Division of the city basketball league will be at stake tonight when front running Bennetts Greenhouse (0-0) takes on Farmers National Bank (5-1) in a 7 p.m. contest.

Bennetts can wrap up the crown with a win. However, if Farmers come out on top, a "three-way" tie could result.

Right now Burton Ford is tied for second place with Farmers with a 5-1 mark. They should beat winless Schaeffer Ford tonight in an 8 p.m. tilt.

Should Farmers beat Bennetts, they and Burtons will all finish with 6-1 records.

This will necessitate a playoff to determine the second half winner. The second half title holder will then meet Farmers Bank (first half winners) for the championship of the Wednesday Division.

Furthermore, if Farmers eventually win the second half there will be no playoff within this division.

Action, which ended in the Monday Division two nights ago, showed that Fireside Inn and Herron Transfer both ended the second half with a 6-1 record. They'll play off later to see who meets Marks Landing (first half winner in the Mon. Div.) for the championship of the Monday league. The Monday champ will then take on the Wednesday title holder for the entire city league crown.

League director John Dawson is considering holding an all-star game between the respective divisions' all-stars after the playoffs have been completed. The main voters in determining the all-stars are the coaches and the officials.

MY PERSONAL choices on a ten-man all star team in each division for the year are as follows: Monday - Lee Barnes, Dean Nicholson, George Ramsey, Jim Weizenecker, Ken Bosu, Ed Bozich, Bob and George Burrier. Wednesday - Gene Kitzmiller, Phil Wenner, Jerry Binder, Dick Beall, John Mandish, Bruce Feicht, John Stallsmith, Bill Davidson, Carson McNeely and Ray Hiner.

Dick Hunter of Salem scored 21 points in Western Reserve's win over Allegheny, Pa. He now has 213 for the year for a 19.4 average.

The Quakers are ranked sixth in the UPI poll of scholastic cage teams.

Two of the reasons for Akron Central's unbeaten record this year are -67 Bill Sparks and 6-6 Nate Thurmond. Toss in 6-3 Elijah Chatman and you have a third reason.

Youngstown Chaney's tallest starter is 6-7 Ron Sabo. Then comes 6-3 Bill Baker, 6-0 Marty Pesut and Clark Avery and Ernie Neal, both of whom are 5-10.

The Cowboys were ranked fifth in the AP poll yesterday. They collected 169 points or 80 more than last week even though only three more sports editors voted. They got only two first place votes. Salem lost out on 23 points and dropped from fifth to eighth.

I think the Quakers dropped primarily because they didn't play last Friday. Meanwhile, Chaney won the Youngstown City title and as yet are unbeaten against Ohio teams. I believe they garnered 80 more points than last week because the persons who had voted them maybe 9th or 10th moved them up to second or third.

A 10th place vote is worth only one point while a second place vote is good for nine points.

What's the difference anyhow during tournament play? Last year the Salem club ended fifth. They had the distinction of being the first quintet in the top ten to be eliminated from the state-wide tourney.

Tourney games are won by developing a killer instinct and by rising to accept and conquer a challenge and not on the laurels of a pseudo-rating.

Wittenberg Upset 47-45 by Capital

By The Associated Press
Duane Pelkey of Capital University is 20 years old today, but he celebrated his birthday on the basketball floor Tuesday night.

He scored 20 points and converted the 20th rebound into the winning basket to give Capital an upset 47-45 victory over Wittenberg and topple the Tigers from the Ohio Conference throne.

Wittenberg previously had been undefeated in 10 conference games, Akron's Zips, unbeaten in 18 straight games, posted their ninth conference victory, a 93-81 verdict over Muskingum, to take possession of first place in the loop.

Oscar Robertson Hits 43 as Bearcats Drub Miami 102-73

By The Associated Press
It has taken the greatest per game pace in major college basketball history to do it, but Oscar Robertson has shattered in less than two seasons a Cincinnati scoring record it took a fine player named Jack Twyman four years to set.

The brilliant Bearcat came off a 10-day rest with a 43 point job Tuesday night as streaking Cincinnati overwhelmed Miami of Ohio 102-73. Robertson now has scored 1,612 points in 47 games compared to the old Cincinnati school record of 1,598 set in 90 games by Twyman, now a star of the professional Cincinnati Royals, from 1951 through 1955.

The Big O has been traveling at a 34.3 per game pace since he made the Bearcats an overnight national power last season. It is the fastest pace in major school history, approached only by former Furman ace Frank Selvy's 37.5 career average.

Oscar's average for the current season rose to 33.1 in the featured game of a relatively slim program. Improving Southern Meth-

Chisox Option Is Exercised By Bill Veeck

CHICAGO (AP)—Bill Veeck, a balding, sweating promoter who is glad to be back home in baseball, vows he will not transfer the Chicago White Sox baseball franchise.

"I've been trying to come back home for 18 years," said Veeck, a native Chicagoan, "and now that I'm here I have no intention of leaving."

This was an informal Veeck speaking Tuesday night hours after his much publicized conference in which he exercised his option to buy the 54 per cent of Sox stock held by Dorothy Comiskey Rigney for $2,700,000.

The closing of the deal was set for March 31 although Veeck said he would try his utmost to complete the transaction before then.

What about Chuck Comiskey who owns 46 per cent of the Sox stock?

Veeck said: "We hope we'll be able to work out an amicable and friendly solution to keep Chuck and the Comiskey name up front in Chicago as it should be. We want to win a pennant. We're not interested in any controversy. Our only controversy will be with the New York Yankees."

Comiskey refused to comment on Veeck's move to exercise the option.

Giants' Coach Rests Hopes On Last Year's Rookie Crop

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. (AP)—The Giants were expected to finish sixth last year. We fooled the experts by finishing third. That's because we came up with the finest rookie crop I've ever had the pleasure of seeing.

I think with that year of experience under their belts, the Giants should be even better in 1959. I don't buy that gab about sophomore jinxes. Our key rookies like Orlando Cepeda, Bob Schmidt, Jim Davenport, Leon Wagner, Willie Kirlend and Felipe Alou should be even better.

I thought we could have used more pitching last year—another top flight starter, and a shut-the-door late inning reliever. Also, I thought another really first class infielder would have tied the whole club together.

We've added Jack Sanford to the starting staff and think he can be one of the league's best. Billy Muffett is the fellow I think can be the relief man answer. A year ago with the Cardinals he was as good as they come. In the infield, I'm hoping that Andre Rodgers can make it at shortstop. That will enable me to play Darryl Spencer at second.

I think Mike McCormick, our fine lefty, will be better. All he lacked last year was a man's mature strength. I thought Allan Worthington was surely going to be a good major league pitcher last year. I still think so. It's about time good luck gave a nod to Stu Miller. And don't forget our ace, Johnny Antonelli.

Every team can always find room for more pitching. But we have the most power and the most prolific run scoring punch in the league. We have good team speed and possibly the greatest collection of throwing arms all around the field that I've seen.

Milwaukee definitely is the team to beat. They are the champions, have a fine team and outstanding pitchers. Pittsburgh has a nicely balanced and now well-seasoned team.

Notice I didn't once mention Willie Mays? What can I say about him that everybody doesn't already know?

He's just the greatest—that's that's all.

Minerva Rips Louisville for 15th Victory

Ten players made the scoring column for Minerva as the Lions rolled over Louisville 80-49 Tuesday night in a cage contest on the latter's court.

Minerva jumped off to a 24-11 first quarter lead, but was held to only five markers in the second stanza while Louisville tallied 14 to make the count 30-25 at the half.

The Lions spurred in the third period to hold a 54-34 bulge going into the third stanza.

Minerva now has a 15-2 record for the season. Louisville has lost 10 while winning six.

The Minerva Jayvees won the preliminary contest 52-40.

Reserves Win 49-48 Verdict Over Girard

Salem's junior varsity basketball team finished its 1958-59 season with a 15-3 record last night as they won their seventh straight in nipping Girard 49-48.

Jim Solmen tossed in 14 for the locals and Fred Harshman 10 while Ed Yates and Carl Dunn had eight each.

Cotafia had 13 and Mamrick 10 for Girard.

Salem had quarter leads of 14-4, 24-17 and 40-27. With a big lead in the final frame coach Karl Zellers began substituting frequently. The visitors crept back into serious contention against the JV's second stringers but time ran out on them.

The Red and Black reserve record for the past two years now stands at 32-4. Two of the three defeats this year were by two points each.

Paths Later Became Roads

Old Salt Spring Trails

By JAMES MURPHY

Nearly all maps of Ohio drawn before 1800 will show several salt springs, lead mines, or silver mines scattered over the state. Native silver and lead have never been found in Ohio and tales of such lost mines, including those supposed to be near Elkon and West Point are based only on legends. It was a different matter with salt, however, for salt springs were common and land with such springs or licks, as they were also called, was very valuable. Salineville got its name from the many commercial salt wells in that area while wells near Lisbon operated as late as the 1880's. During the pioneer days, salt was a scarce commodity—almost worth its weight in gold to Indian and white man alike. There were few large producing springs and these few were consequently well-known. The most famous was on the Mahoning River near Niles. Mahoning actually means "at the salt lick."

WHEN THE FIRST explorers entered eastern Ohio, they found a well-worn Indian path leading to this lick. As was the case with most of these trails, their routes were those now followed by a large number of our modern highways. The Salt Springs trail began at Lisbon where it joined the Tuscarora, or Great trail, near the fairgrounds. It went due north from here, following the present Lisbon-Franklin Square Road.

Leaving Franklin Square, the trail passed along the east bank of Little Beaver Creek to Millville where it forded the stream near the Route 14 bridge. It then continued through Bentley's woods between the upper Egypt Road and Route 2 until it reached New Albany.

North of New Albany, the trail crossed the headwaters of Meander Creek and followed the Mahoning River to the springs.

THESE SPRINGS have a bloody history. Once the site of an Indian town and trading post prior to the Revolutionary War, they are located at the end of Salt Springs Road near Youngstown. Several murders occurred here but the most far-reaching was the in its effect murder of Captain George, an Indian killed by Joseph McMahon in 1870.

The Indians intended to wipe out the small village of Youngstown but fortunately they accepted the verdict of the judge and peace was restored.

Fourteen years before this incident, a trader was killed at the springs and in 1804, the Indians murdered a saltmaker who refused to give them whiskey.

THERE WERE villages and campsites along the entire trail and one of them was within the corporate limits of Salem. The earliest settlers have left record of a half-starved band of Delaware Indians that camped near the present polo field.

Those who enjoy hunting for Indian relics will find the bottomlands along Little Beaver Creek a "happy hunting ground" for each spring dozens of arrowheads are turned up in the fields between Salem and New Albany.
